

Ekahau Pro licensing 2021 – More benefits for user

Ekahau has launched new update for Ekahau Pro, its new release 10.3.0 is now:

- Account-based login & license activation
- Access Point Color Selection
- Multi Edit for Measured Access Points
- MacOS 11 compatibility fixes

Account-based login & license activation for Ekahau Pro

Ekahau's license keys are no longer tied to pieces of hardware when you activate your license. It also means that you no longer need Ekahau Sidekick or external USB NIC dongles to use Ekahau Pro on multiple computers.

You can activate the license on two computers simultaneously – without any special hardware needed! (A single license key is still intended to be used by a single user only)

Additionally, now you can also transfer the license to a new computer swiftly and easily. Moving your license to a new computer is now simple as logging out of your old computer and logging in to your new computer.

Access Point Color Selection

This new feature allows you to freely color the APs the way you want – with colors clearly presented both on the map and in the Access Point list. Use the colors to indicate specific APs relevant to your needs, use them for access point categorization purposes or to just change the color theme of your APs.

Multi-Edit for Measured Access Points

When you need to edit APs across the whole projects, be them simulated or measured, this feature will be valuable, but the parameter selection will be limited to one with the lowest common denominator.

MacOS 11 compatibility fixes

Older version of Ekahau Pro will have problem with MacOS 11 "Big Sur". This new release fix this problem.
