Daocheng Yading Nature Reserve

Honored as the “last pure land on our blue planet”, Daocheng Yading Nature Reserve was first introduced to the world when the famous American adventurer Joseph F. Rock published an article and photographs of Daocheng in the National Geographic in 1928. “Where in all the world is to be found scenery comparable to that which awaits the explorer and photographer!”, he wrote. The snow-capped mountains, steep cliffs, crystal clear lakes, vast pastures, as well as the dense woods compose a harmonious utopian land.

XinDuQiao is a picturesque small Tibetan town and famous for its plateau pasture scenery, with vivid green grassland, streams, mountains, and Tibetan counting houses surrounding it. It is called the paradise of photographers, due to the wonderful natural lights and stunning landscape here.

Mugecuo Scenic Area Endowed with numerous lakes, waterfalls, hot springs, dense woods, fragrant flowers, peculiar peaks, and grotesque rocks. Mugecuo Scenic Area presents picturesque scenery all the year round. the home of love songs in Garze Tibetan Autonomous Prefecture of Sichuan. this site is also known as Kangding Love Song Scenic Area.

Pearl Lake Pearl Lake is hiding behind a small forest, and it's actually a bigger pond. Verdurous water shines quietly under the reflection of the sky. Chenresig's reflection on the lake surface keeps invigorating the lake.

White Pagoda

The only white pagoda in KangNan area is the theme park. It is also unique in the hearts of its Tibetan compatriots and unique in the world. In Litang to Daocheng on the road, if you see this towering clean white tower, long-distance bumps even worth it.

The Red Grass Field

Once the September comes, there will be full of red grass. This scene will continue to mid-October. During the golden autumn, the birth forest is shining from afar, while in front of the forest is a little pond which is full of red grass. The Red Grassland is actually small, however, it's definitely deserve your visit.

LuoRong Pasture

Surrounded by rolling mountains, Luorong Pasture is the best site to view the three holy mountains. Leisurely herds of sheep and cattle enjoy the green grass, clear water and warm sunlight there. When there is a breeze, the lovely creatures are barely visible standing between flourishing grasses. It is as if some wool balls are rolling around.

Populus Woods

There are thousands of populus being planted on the riverbank around Daocheng County. In autumn, the leaves of populus turn golden. You will enjoy an extraordinary beautiful view consists of the blue sky, white clouds and golden leaves.
